

We are pleased to inform you that Mr. Kenji Ekuan was awarded the 23rd International Compasso d' Oro Award for International Lifetime Achievement, on May 28th, 2014 by Association for Industrial Design (ADI) and Foundation of ADI. The award is for his avid support for the arts dedicated to the promotion of national and international design and one of the founders of the Metabolism (the architectural movement born in 1960).

Now to celebrate Mr. Kenji Ekuan's long time effort to establish and to internationalize of design field in Japan, we are planning to have a commemorative lecture session and a celebration. It will be our great pleasure that his wider activities will gather the momentum to be succeeded beyond generations.

We are more than happy having your company at the event to celebrate the occasion.

With best regards,

August, 2014
